

FÖ0430 Research methods – Master level distance course – HT-2020

This is a self-paced asynchronous distance course, intended for student who cannot attend the classroom-based methods course, FÖ0446, that is offered in the Spring, period 4.

The course begins on August 31, and all accepted students will receive an invitation to join the Canvas course, which will be the teaching and communication platform for the course.

The only other scheduled date is September 4, which is the deadline to confirm course participation and submit an individual course schedule, with planned completion on or before June 4, 2021.
