

Schedule HV0189, preliminary

There are no compulsory meetings on this course. Recorded lectures and demonstrations of some exercises will be published on the Canvas page and there will be scheduled zoom meetings to ask questions once every second week, but questions can also be asked in written form in Canvas.

You are expected to read approximately one chapter per week.

The exam will be a combination of a written exam in Canvas on January 11th 8.00-11.00 and a short oral exam in zoom. You will be able to choose the time for the oral exam from a few suggested times and days in the middle of January.

There will be four assignments to hand in during the course that can give bonus points to the written exam.
