

Preliminary Schedule People & Environment LK0382

(updated 2024.10.08)

This is a full time course. Non-scheduled time is to be used for reading the literature and for working on your individual project. Mandatory scheduled events to attend are marked with an *. It's of course also mandatory to participate in group project work, in accordance with how the group decides to organise the work.

The course is an in-place course on campus. There are some few lectures where the teacher joins from distance, which will then be presented as hybrid lectures possible to follow in a room on campus or on Zoom. The Zoom link will be posted in the CANVAS version of the schedule.
